

The best way to get your life in order is to make some changes. You can always use the tried and true method of analyzing what you need in life, but if you want some real insight on how to make positive changes, put on some headphones and tune into this podcast. This show features interviews with people who have taken time for themselves rather than trying to impress others by focusing on their career or achievement. They each share how they've overcome the mental blocks that stand in the way of them living a fulfilling life and achieve success. Each episode features a guest, who is happy to share their story and how they've succeeded in doing things differently in order to live the life they want. These people have overcome everything from difficult times to major setbacks in their lives and came out on top in the end. This podcast shares inspirational stories and interviews with people all over the world who have quit their jobs, moved across country or even changed careers so they can accomplish more of what it is they love. They are living their dreams today by changing what, why, when, where and how they get things done! 6 weeks ago I knew my wife was pregnant with our first child. Since then, my life has been full of questions, concerns, fears and decisions. I have had to learn myself all over again. The journey is part of the exhilaration of being a dad. I enjoy the ride. My guests are people who are taking their own journeys through life and often come to the same conclusion by different paths...trying to make meaning out of their lives. This podcast is for anyone who has ever felt stuck in a rut or frustrated by an unsatisfying career or lifestyle. It's for anyone who has ever dreamed about doing something more with their life but didn't think they could figure out how to get there from where they were. My guests share their stories and lessons learned through fire and not-so-funny stories. I'm excited to dive into the world of these conversations and tell and share their stories with you. This podcast is for anyone who has ever wondered what might happen if they just made a change to their life, ignored the naysayers, and set out on a new path, whatever that might be. The answers are right here with my guests as we look at "how" we make changes in our own lives (it's not as easy as it seems!).
